Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

Species 1, the first embodiment described in pages 2-3,5 of the specification.

Species 2, the second embodiment described in pages 2-5 of the specification

Species 3, the third embodiment described in pages 5-6 of the specification

Species 4, the fourth embodiment described in pages 6-7 of the specification

Species 5, the fifth embodiment described in page 7 of the specification

Species 6, the sixth embodiment described in pages 7-8 of the specification

Species 7, the seventh embodiment described in pages 8-9 of the specification

Species 8, the eighth embodiment described in pages 9-10 of the specification

The species are independent or distinct because they have elements that differ from one another and that requires additional search for each distinct element in the independent claims. The fact that the independent claims have distinct elements differing them from one another is considered to be the reason for their presentation in independent form.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, the claimed inventions are divided in three distinct categories (semiconductor package, stripline device, printed circuit mounting member). There is no generic claim in the distinct categories but may be one in each group of claims. That issue will be resolved upon a possible second restriction depending how the applicant/s elect/s a species for examination.

Please note that one method claim is claimed but is thought not to impose additional examination burden unless the situation changes upon amendment by applicant.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Fetsum Abraham whose telephone number is 703-305-3793. The examiner can normally be reached on 8-5.
